Anytime you enter the roadway, you take a risk. Used cars usually equate to cheaper insurance policies because they are typically cheaper for the insurance company to replace if the car is totaled. Drivers who own cars with newer safety features like back up cameras and higher crash safety scores have cheaper insurance. If you are thinking of buying a used car, you need to start the process of getting insurance at the same time, if not before buying the car. With only two exceptions, most states require all car owners to carry third-party liability insurance on every car they own. Generally, a car owner who uses a car loan to buy a car will need more than basic liability coverage. Insurance is more than a good thing to have or something that most states require.
